Date of discovery: 10.2016
Details of discovery: Within the scope of a customs check (in Baden-Württemberg, customs investigation office Stuttgart) concerning a delivery coming from Bulgaria a great amount of Testosteron-Depot 250mg Eifelfango ampoules (1118 ampoules) was found among others. The whole content of the delivery (with many other doping substances) proves that the delivery was an illegal supply intended for the bodybuilder scene.
Analysed: YES <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> NO <input type="checkbox"/>
If yes, result of analysis: After a short DC analyse by the MAH the ampoules seemed to contain the correct API (Testosteron enanthate) but in a lower concentration. A second analyse by Institut für Dopinganalytik und Sportbiochemie Dresden (Institute for doping analytics and sport biochemistry) showed that the probed ampoules had an average higher concentration (270mg/ml) as the original (250mg/ml). Therefore a third analyse was performed by the OMCL at Mainz. Surprisingly this analyse resulted in the detection of two different substances (one of them perhaps another testosterone salt) but no Testosteron enanthate was found. Therefore it seems that the content of the confiscated ampoules is strongly varying. The counterfeit is not easily to identify. The most obvious difference is a different shape of the holes in the holder for the ampoules inside the package.
